We are adding new and exciting energy to our Wednesday night Torah study! Starting on Wednesday, October 29, our evenings will have two new features. First we will be joined by 8 students from the University of Maryland who will come study with us and teach us. Second, we are launching the Ohev-rutah program! The Ohev-rutah program will match you up with a chevrotah (learning partner) who shares a common learning interest and compatible learning level with you. Whether it's chumash, prayers, chassidus, or parenting- the Ohev-rutah program will help you find the person that can delve deeply into these topics with you and help you grow through the mitzvah of Talmud Torah! Join Ohev's book club for an open discussion that will center around two articles concerning the state of American Jews. The first article is by Jay Lefkowitz and is titled "The Rise of Social Orthodoxy." We hope that it will provide a great deal to discuss about our own Jewish identities.
